

Here are some copyright management services for artists. Not recommendations as I have not vetted any of these. Just links for your convenience, ready for your own due-dilligence

RightsClick is a relatively new service that offers a simple and affordable way to organize, register, and track your copyright. It also offers tools to help you identify and respond to infringements. RightsClick starts at just $9.99 per month.

CopyByte is another affordable copyright management option for photographers. It offers a variety of features, including copyright registration, infringement monitoring, and legal assistance. CopyByte starts at just $2.99 per month.

Pixsy is a service that helps photographers find and takedown copyright infringements. It also offers a variety of other features, such as copyright registration and legal assistance. Pixsy starts at just $10 per month.

Pixelrights is a copyright management service specifically for photographers. It offers a variety of features, including copyright registration, infringement monitoring, and licensing. Pixelrights starts at just $15 per month.

PhotoClaim is a service that helps photographers get compensated for copyright infringements. It offers a variety of features, including infringement monitoring, legal assistance, and settlement negotiation. PhotoClaim takes a percentage of any settlements recovered.

ShootProof is a portfolio and e-commerce platform for photographers that also offers copyright management features. It offers a variety of features, including copyright registration, infringement monitoring, and licensing. ShootProof starts at just $9 per month.

Zenfolio is another portfolio and e-commerce platform for photographers that also offers copyright management features. It offers a variety of features, including copyright registration, infringement monitoring, and licensing. Zenfolio starts at just $15 per month.

Artists Rights Society \(ARS\) is a non-profit organization that represents over 70,000 visual artists. ARS offers a variety of services to its members, including copyright registration, infringement monitoring, and licensing.

Visual Artists & Galleries Association \(VAGA\) is another non-profit organization that represents visual artists. VAGA offers a variety of services to its members, including copyright registration, infringement monitoring, and licensing.

Copyright Clearance Center \(CCC\) is a global organization that helps businesses and individuals obtain copyright permissions for copyrighted works. CCC offers a variety of services, including copyright research, licensing, and compliance.

Copyright Alliance is a non-profit organization that advocates for copyright rights. The Copyright Alliance offers a variety of resources to help visual artists learn about copyright law and protect their rights.